

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys; they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog, you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region; you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist, four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

DEATHS

Dexter Brown Thomas.

Dexter Brown Thomas, the little one year and a half old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Thomas of Centerville township, died yesterday morning at the home of his parents. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and interment was made in Silver Brook cemetery.

A few weeks ago this little child was taken to Baltimore to a specialist for treatment. However, nothing could be done for it, and it was brought back home about two weeks ago. The little boy was especially bright for its age and its parents have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

If a woman would have the neighbors respect her husband she must set an example.

WANTS COOPERATION TO IMPROVE SERVICE

First Assistant Postmaster General Writes Postmaster Laughlin.

Postmaster William Laughlin is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general in regard to mail efficiency. He makes an appeal for some cooperation from the merchants and business men of the city and wants to have the following letter noticed by the public.

The letter urging several little things on the part of the public, which while small will greatly facilitate mail matters reads as follows:

Your especial attention is directed to the good that may be accomplished by seeking the cooperation of the chamber of commerce, board of trade, association of merchants or citizens, or other civic organizations in your city, and also the newspapers and other mediums of publicity, in efforts to improve the local mail service, and at the same time to reduce its cost.

Such organizations, if properly approached, will aid you in inducing large patrons to face their mail, to separate the pieces by local and outgoing classes, and the letters by long and short sides by posting their mailings as early in the day and as frequently as possible so as to avoid congestion in the evening and insure prompt despatch; to deposit their mail, if practicable, at the main office instead of at the stations or in street letter boxes; to call at the postoffice in the morning for heavy incoming mails; to supply sufficient address on their stationery in return cards and in the ordinary direction on outgoing mail; and to provide mail receptacles.

If the exigencies that beset the post office during the holiday season are explained, such organizations may be induced to include in their "Shop Early" propaganda the additional suggestion to "Mail Early."

On your part you should invite suggestions, and treat all such communications with the utmost courtesy and consideration, meeting whenever possible the desire of the organization or patron, or explaining carefully why it is not feasible to accept the suggestion.

You are expected to make an earnest effort to secure the co-operation of civic organizations and of patrons individually in these and other like matters. For the information of the bureau you will report on or before January 1, 1917, the results secured by you in line with these suggestions, pointing out the additional cooperation given you by the public, especially during the Christmas period.

Daniel C. Roper,
First Assistant

"The press is being operated," said O. Fred Williams, M. D., superintendent, "by the patients. The plant will mean a considerable saving to the state. We expect to train the patients and simple jobs will be turned over to the plant."

Contracts for quarterly supplies will be awarded at a meeting of the board of regents of the state hospital for the insane to be held in Columbia Thursday. Other routine matters will be considered.

Suits and Overcoats at

If the United States and Germany were engaged in war, and the German Army was anywhere near here, the above "Newspaper Scare Head" would in all probability greet you some morning in The Intelligencer.

This being true—why will you Mr. Man hesitate about coming here before buying your Fall Suit? You don't have to swim a river, or engage in war to get these suits. All you've got to do is to fork over fifteen dollars and get a regular twenty dollar suit. If, after looking at these fifteen dollar suits, you don't think they are well worth twenty dollars you don't have to buy 'em.

We have others at eighteen, twenty, twenty five—all worth the price, too; but these fifteen dollar suits are "Seventy Five Centimeter" Guns. If you doubt this—Charge us! We warrant you, though, that we are well entrenched and armed with the best clothes for the price that money and skill can produce.

MOUNT MITCHELL

Famous North Carolina Peak to Be Made a Park.

Asheville, Nov. 11.—Through the efforts of Judge J. F. Long, an ancient document conveying the top of Mount Mitchell to Margaret E. Mitchell, daughter of Professor Mishra Mitchell, who discovered the height of the mountain which bears his name, has been brought to light, and may make a material change in the plans made by the state of North Carolina for securing the mountain top as a state park.

Professor Mitchell is buried at the top of the mountain, his grave surrounded by a monument and the last legislature appropriated $20,000 for the purpose of buying enough land surrounding the grave for a state park.

By virtue of various papers, Mrs. Alice Connally, a leading society woman of this city, claimed possession of the plot on which Doctor Mitchell is buried, and fixed the price of five acres which she claimed to own, at $10,000.

This has caused the deal to hang fire until Judge Long, now a venerable and honored member of the superior court bench, happened to remember that, as young lawyer back in 1848, he had drawn up a deed conveying the property in question to one of Professor Mitchell's daughters. He immediately instituted a search for the missing deed, and after considerable search located it on file in the office of the Bancroft county registrar of deeds, Judge Long states that by reason of this deed, title to the property rests in the heirs-at-law of Margaret Mitchell, who died at Statesville several years ago. Judge Long immediately telegraphed Governor Crute, telling him of the discovery of the missing deed, and received a message in reply thanking him for his efforts and stating that he (Judge Long) had nobly and bravely saved the state a much trouble, injustice and expense.

The state will now undoubtedly take immediate steps to acquire this property, as there is little doubt that the new owners will be willing to make concessions to have a park set aside as a tribute to the memory of their distinguished kinsman.
